
ORIENTATION NIGHT

GET IN HARMONY WITH ACADEMY

MUSICIANS today can often have trouble finding a place to play music after they have finished school.

The Hills Music Academy provides the perfect opportunity for musicians to do what they love.

On Friday, July 25, the community band is holding an orientation night.

Musicians from the community are invited to come and play alongside the current members.

There will be two groups rehearsing in Baulkham Hills on the evening, from 6 to 7.30pm and then from 7.30 to 9.30pm.

The Hills Music Academy was formed in early 1980 and provides performance opportunities for musicians of the Shire and its surrounds.

The band consists of musicians aged from 12 through to retirees.

Music director Garry Clark said the orientation night would be a good way to introduce potential new members to HMA.

“HMA is always keen to extend its membership and promote music awareness,”

Mr Clark said. “Also spreading music education throughout the area and producing outstanding quality wind ensemble music.”

HMA can be contacted via email on: mail@hillsmusicacademy.com.au or phone 0414 731 344 to ensure that you attend the most suitable rehearsal.

This year, the Max Potential Program joins the Hills Music Academy in introducing community musicians to a program that will enable them to pursue their passion for music.
